YOUR NATIONAL 4-H SUPPLY SERVICE

The National 4-H Supply Service is happy to provide this catalog of 4-H merchandise for 1961.

It is designed to acquaint you with the many items which are available to help build the prestige and influence of the 4-H Club program. These items, bearing the 4-H emblem, can be effectively used to (a) provide a dignified type of identification and recognition for those associated with the 4-H program, and (b) help acquaint the community and general public with the spirit, idealism and purposes of 4-H Club Work.

In a real sense, our organization provides a specialized personal shopping service for you. You have in the National 4-H Supply Service a central source of merchandise selected especially for 4-H Clubs and made available on a non-profit basis.

We take great pride in the confidence which has been placed in the Supply Service over a period of 35 years. This long-time record of 4-H support, our non-profit status, and our ability to meet the diverse needs of 4-H Club folks were recognized in this statement of endorsement by the Extension Subcommittee on 4-H Club Work and Federal Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture: "The National 4-H Service Committee, Inc., shall be, to the maximum degree possible, the source of supplies for the 4-H Club Work except where they are not in the best position to provide a particular item."

It is a real privilege to cooperate with 4-H folks in helping to advance and further popularize the Club program. Please feel free to call on us whenever we can be of assistance.

FEDERAL EXCISE TAX

Any items purchased to be used as an award or an incentive are exempt from the 10% Federal Excise Tax. If the taxable item or items which you are ordering fit into this category, please state on your order that "these items are for an award or incentive" and we will not charge you the 10% Excise Tax.

HOW TO MEASURE YOUR FINGER FOR A 4-H RING

To measure your finger for a 4-H ring, cut a piece of paper (do not use string) about 1/8 inch wide. Wrap the paper snugly around the middle joint of the finger on which you will be wearing the ring. Snip off excess end of the paper so that the two ends meet exactly around the joint of the finger. Now, take the piece of paper and put one end of it on line XX (to the left in the above drawing). The right edge of your paper will show your ring size. The short lines in the drawing indicate half sizes.

SPECIAL COPY PENNANTS AND BANNERS

On this and the opposite page are shown several pennants and banners which may be ordered with lettering that you specify. We suggest that you give us permission to arrange the copy for you. If your copy requirements run beyond the maximums that are mentioned for a particular pennant or banner, write to us and we will quote on the specifications you outline, or offer other suggestions.

Since all the special copy pennants and banners require the making of a pattern before they can be made up, please allow at least 3 weeks from the time your order reaches our office until the merchandise is received by you. We know how important it is to have your items when you need them, and ordering well in advance of the date needed will eliminate disappointments.

Leaders find answers to 4-H problems in National 4-H news

What's your 4-H problem of the moment? Planning a float or exhibit? Getting more help from parents? Quieting a noisy member? Helping your 4-H'ers with their records?

With all kinds of problems, adult and junior 4-H leaders look for the answers in National 4-H News, the only 4-H magazine with nation-wide coverage. And the answers are there, every month, in such regular departments as Leader Line, Leaders Monthly Meeting, Junior Leader and Recreation. Readers get tried and proven ideas on fund-raising, community service activities, roadside signs, games for 4-H meetings, floats, exhibits, record-keeping and a host of other subjects that hit right at the problems of leading a 4-H Club.

Local leaders find other answers in the feature articles that cover 4-H history and goals, understanding and working with youth, experiences of successful leaders, ways of carrying out junior leadership, and many other topics.

Subscribe now to this 4-H idea magazine. Just send your name and complete address to National 4-H News, 59 E. Van Buren, Chicago 5, Ill. (Please do not send to National 4-H Supply Service.) Enclose $1.25 in cash or check for a year's subscription, $3.00 for three years. Or get 20 or more folks in your area together to take advantage of the special group rate of 80 cents a year.

All plays and books sent postpaid. No royalty required for nonprofessional production. Many of the plays are copyrighted and parts cannot be copied. Some require purchase of play book for each member of cast.

PLAYS FOR 4-H CLUBS

All Four, by Adena Joy. One act; 3 m and 5 w. Time, 25 min. Easy to stage. Clever plot. Bright, witty conversation. Unusual. Shows why an all-round girl wins a popular boy's recognition as against 5 girl friends with narrow interests. Demonstrates the value of 4-H Club training. Price, 10c. Set of 9, 50c.

4-H Tackles Father. A modern rural play by Pearl Holloway. One act; 5 m and 4 w. Time, 30 min. Tom Hollister, old-style farmer, views 4-H as tomfoolery until he sees his children's results. Full of 4-H pep. Price, 40c.

Life Begins on the Farm. 4-H Club play by Pearl Holloway. One act; 4 m and 7 w. Time, 25 min. Brisk and snappy story of city Lesters' visit to country relatives and their introduction to 4-H and modern farm life. Price, 40c.

Pleasing Plays of Country Life, by Blanche H. Pickering and W. L. Miles. Paper-bound book of 108 pages. Includes 17 one-act plays from 10 min. to an hour. Only simple costumes and scenery required. Price, 60c.

Educatin' Mary. Rural play by Nellie L. Fischer, 4 m and 4 w. Time, 25 min. Scene has easy living room setting. Not a "teachy" play but a lively comedy written and first produced as an argument in favor of higher education of rural youth. Mary goes to Normal School and, although it means a sacrifice for the parents, it proves a blessing for all. Price, 40c.

MYSTERY AND COMEDY PLAYS

The White Phantom. Mystery by Wilbur Braun. 3 m and 4 w. Time, 35 min. Interior scene. Modern costumes. Exciting, fast moving, and full of humor. Officer Nolan helps colored maid, Eleven Moore, catch the notorious criminal, The White Phantom. Price, 40c.

Not Quite Such a Goose. Comedy by Elizabeth Gale. 2 m and 3 w. Time, 30 min. Albert Bells, seventeen, scorns his sister's interest in a sweetheart. Sister's girl friend appears and Albert finds things—well, just different. Price, 48c.

In Doubt About Daisy. Comedy by Germaine Haney. One act; 3 m and 3 w. Time, 30 min. Mac and Honor bring Katherine home to the farm with them. To Mother, Katherine is just one more tie binding her son to the city when he should be farming; and she is just as eager to have Honor marry Herb, a young farmer. To show up Katherine as a helpless clinging vine, Mother and Dad slip away for a little vacation. To explain his parents' absence, Mac makes up a plausible story about a sick Aunty Daisy. Herb supposes Daisy is a sick cow, and this misunderstanding makes a riotously funny play. Price, 40c.

Pig of My Dreams. Comedy by Spranger Barry. One act; 3 m and 3 w. Time, 20 min. Jimmy is warned to move his Poland China pig out of the woodbox behind the kitchen stove before Jane and her parents arrive from the city. Jimmy, though eager to make a good impression, thinks the barn is too cold for the pig and so leaves it in the kitchen without mentioning it. The nursing bottle arouses the concern of Jane's mother . . . has Jimmy been married before? Then, the love scene is interrupted with a soft "oink, oink" which Jimmy tries to cover with a fit of coughing. Here is a delightful, refreshingly different comedy. Price, 40c.

Buddy Answers an Ad. Comedy by J. C. McMullen. One act; 4 m and 4 w. Time, 40 min. Buddy has a mania for answering ads—face cream, shaving soap, pills, and guinea pigs. His mother and father are kept busy answering the telephone and turning away agents who call to follow up Buddy's letters. Finally, his mother, sister, and friends play a trick that cures him. Price, 40c.

Elmer. Comedy by Beatrice H. McNeil. One act; 3 m and 6 w. Time, 40 min. You must meet the Colliers — Jeanie and Janie, the beautiful twins; Mrs. Collier, sweet and motherly; Susan, poor Cinderella; and Elmer, the adolescent. You will get many a laugh from Elmer's lines, and you will sympathize with his youthful ideas and grow fond of him before the play is over. The twins are always considered first in everything, which displeases Elmer who has lots of affection for Susan. With his help Cinderella blossoms, and the way he accomplishes it makes for a genuine and sincere comedy. A winner of many important contests. Price, 40c.

Elmer Cleans Up. Unusually clever comedy by Paul McCoy. One act; 2 m and 3 w. Time, 25 min. Elmer aspires to write. He mysteriously gets the family to sign an agreement to allow him to use them as characters in a story, agreeing to give them each $10 if he sells the story. They sign, and he immediately gives them the money. He has already sold the story which creates a great stir in town but brings consternation to the family. Elmer has used the love letters of his father, mother, and sister as the basis for his story "Love, Yesterday and Today." A knock-out comedy for contest use. Five copies required for production. Price, 50c.

Cupid Advertises. Comedy by Amy Clarke Bone. One act; 4 m and 6 w. Time, 30 min. A light, ridiculous comedy resulting from mixed want ads when uncle advertises for a housekeeper and nephew for a wife, and each interviews the other's applicants. Price, 40c.

His First Shave. Comedy by Ronald Else. One act; 2 m and 3 w. Time, 30 min. Shaving for the first time is so fascinating to Derek Morton that it causes him to disrupt the family routine completely and to miss a date with his girl, Janet, who goes off for the evening with his hated rival. Price, 40c.

Plays and Stunts for 4-H Clubs, written by Ethel Rogers. The theme and plot of each number in this book deals directly with the aims and purposes of 4-H Club activities. Each number is short, snappy, and actable. 95 pages. Price, 85c.
