

Voices Of 4-H History

The 1914 Smith-Lever Act provided federal funding to the Extension Service in every state. To honor this milestone, the National 4-H History Preservation Team is leading an Oral History program to capture local success stories of Extension and 4-H.

- Celebrates 100 years of Cooperative Extension
- Smith-Lever Centennial 1914-2014
- Youth interviewing alumni, volunteers and supporters to share their stories
- Audio or video recording/editing multi-media
- Share at film festivals and local events
- Preserving history
- Participation is fun
- Youth gain communication skills
- Alumni get re-connected to 4-H
- Intergenerational connections

The Voices of 4-H History project aims to increase public awareness of the Cooperative Extension Service and its 4-H Youth Development Program during the 2014 Smith-Lever Act's Centennial Year.

A goal of the Voices of 4-H History project is to collect information that reflects personal and community-based 4-H history and illustrates the program's richly significant story.

Getting different perspectives on history in order to tell the entire story involves asking many different people to share their treasured memories. Voices of 4-H History will include members, staff, leaders and alumni.
